#UNGENDER PHOTO EXHIBITION AT HIGH STREET PHOENIX

High Street Phoenix is showcasing #UNGENDER — a photo exhibition that has been curated by Elle magazine, as part of the Focus Photography Festival. Rajendra Kalkar, senior centre director at The Phoenix Mills Limited, tells us, "High Street Phoenix has always encouraged art and culture and we are delighted to lend our location to an art project that combines fashion, photography and culture for a bigger cause. The exhibition allows us to lend our support to the issue of gender stereotyping. Keeping recent events in mind, this is definitely a cause that our society needs to feel strongly about, and kudos to the festival for attempting to shed light on this."

ECSTASY OF ART PART II AT THE TAO ART GALLERY

Tao Art Gallery is hosting a show dedicated to the thrill of creating art. Several artists including Salman Khan, Arzan Khambatta, Satish Gupta and Brinda Miller have created art especially for this show. "Ecstasy lies in every detail of the form, colours and textures that go into the making of art. Only then does art reach its pinnacle, and these elements captivate your senses, enthralling you. Our 15th anniversary show showcases and celebrates joy and happiness. Let's traverse the journey of ecstasy from the artist's heart to the collector's home," says Kalpana Shah, owner of Tao Art Gallery.

When Till March 28, 11am to 7pm
