8 Amazingly simple Diwali gift ideas which are handmade and can be created by kids at home!

This Diwali, indulge in easy-to-do craft projects and get your kids to make useful, creative gifting items with a bit of sewing. From a handmade greeting card to a multipurpose pouch for grandma, from an organizer or a notepad holder for daddy to a cushion cover for their own room, this festive season, let's add some fun in our kids daily activities.

I would always think that sewing is not my cup of tea. But, one day when I came across Usha My Fab Barbie sewing machine, it was decided that I will be learning and embracing craft and sewing skills before the festive season embarks. Not just that, I would be involving my little one in these mini projects too. I would like to add here that sewing has become quite a part of my gorgeous life. It has added a fresh, youthful and contemporary perspective to my thoughts on the art of gifting.

So, this August and September, we were busy creating beautiful gifting ideas. Inspired by the sparkling, glittery festivities, we came out with 8 handmade craft products which shall be gifted to our loved ones this Diwali.

Take a look at top three DIY craft items which are not tricky. Feel free to click on my mini sewing project demo and learn how to get started.

1. Diwali card:

Material required:

- Handmade paper
- Embroidery hoop
- Felt
- Coordinated silk threads for embroidery
- Fabric glue, pattern paper, and scissors
- Decorative material for embellishment
